

THE picture appearing on the society page of this paper is one of Mr. Tarn McGrew, formerly of Honolulu. A cable was received by his parents May seventh announcing his marriage to Mrs. Isabelle Scott Grant. Mr. McGrew is the only son of Doctor and Mrs. John Stager McGrew of this city. The McGrews are one of the most prominent and influential families of these islands, and have always been leaders in social affairs. Their home is one of the most hospitable in the islands and until recent years—owing to the poor health of the doctor—has been the center of social activities. Mr. McGrew's family is not only prominent on the paternal side, but on the maternal as well. Mrs. McGrew was a Miss Gillett, of Detroit, Michigan, and comes of one of the oldest and most distinguished families of that part of the country. Mr. McGrew has one sister, Mrs. Charles Bryant Cooper, wife of Dr. Cooper of this city. This young couple are among the social leaders of Honolulu. Mr. McGrew has been making his home in Paris for the last five years, much to the regret of his numerous friends in the islands, where he was a great favorite with both young and old. He has been holding a position with the Franco-American bank in Paris. He was married quietly to Mrs. Grant only her parents and a few intimate friends witnessed the ceremony. The bride is a handsome and accomplished woman, and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Scott. The former is a New York banker and millionaire. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. McGrew left immediately for Italy, where the honeymoon will be spent. On their return to Paris they will reside at 40 Ave du Bois de Boulogne. This young couple may take a trip around the world next year, and en route visit their parents in Honolulu. It is hoped that they will carry out this plan, for they would receive a royal reception by the groom's host of friends.

Mrs. Mackail's Luncheon.

Mrs. Bruce Mackail entertained at a beautifully appointed luncheon Wednesday at her home on Lunalilo street. Covers were laid for ten, and the table was ornamented with delicate pink carnations. A fancy basket was placed in the center of the table and was filled with these flowers, the outer edge of the basket was fringed with maiden hair ferns. The handle of the basket was tied with pink tulle, while pink carnations and delicate green ferns were scattered over the snowy cloth and added additional beauty to the table. Bamboo place cards hand-painted with conventional designs served as place cards. Pink Duchesse roses were arranged around the sideboard, tropical palms occupied the corners of the room. After luncheon black coffee was served in the drawing room, this room was beautifully decorated in pink roses. Mrs. Mackail was becomingly gowned in a frock of verte ardoise with touches of black. Among the women who enjoyed this hostess's hospitality were: Mrs. Ernest Mott-Smith, Mrs. Charles Waite, Mrs. L. Tenney Peck, Mrs. Ernest Ross, Mrs. Walbridge, Mrs. Alexander Lindsay, Mrs. Frederick Waterhouse, Miss Wickstrum and Miss Margaret Clarke.

Admiral and Mrs. Lyon's Niece to Wed

Invitations are being informally given for the wedding ceremony of Miss Margaret Thompson to Ensign Charles Conway Hartigan, U. S. N., which will take place on the afternoon of Wednesday, June 1st, in St. Mary's Cathedral. The bride, who is a blond beauty of petite stature, will wear a bridal gown of white satin and lace with conventional tulle-veil and flowers. The list of bridal attendants is not yet complete, but it is announced that Miss Elsie Hinz of Mill Valley and Miss Laura Benet, daughter of Colonel Walker Benet, U. S. A., of Benicia, and Miss Dorothy Draper will be of the party. Mr. Hartigan will have a brother officer attend him as best man, and six shipmates in full dress uniform will act as ushers. James Thompson will give his sister into the bridegroom's keeping and an informal wedding breakfast will follow.

Captain and Mrs. Marx Dinner.

Captain and Mrs. Marx entertained at their home on Kinohao street Thursday evening. Covers were arranged for eight, the table was adorned with cut flowers and maiden hair ferns. Among those present were: Captain and Mrs. Marx, Mr. and Mrs. Mary Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gilman, Lieutenant Willis.

Miss Low's House Party.

Miss Mary Low entertained twenty of her friends in a delightful manner, Sunday, at a house party at Pearl Harbor. The entertainment was given in honor of Mrs. Renjes and Miss Renjes. Most of the guests motored to the beautiful Robinson home where the affair was given, while a few went by train. Luncheon was served a little after one o'clock at two tables, which were gracefully arranged with cut flowers. Before luncheon a large launch was provided for the assembled guests, and a delightful cruise was taken through the lochs of Pearl Harbor. Among those present were: Miss Mary Low, Mrs. Renjes, Miss Renjes, Miss Eben Low, Mrs. Sewall and Miss Sewall of New York, Miss Hawkes, Mr. and Mrs. Heaney, Mrs. Philip Frear, Captain Low, U. S. M. C., Mr. P. R. Bartlett, Doctor Frear, Mr. Roddy Walker, Mr. Lanyon, Mr. Heaney, Mr. Robinson and Mr. Stackpole.

Mr. and Mrs. William G. Irwin announced yesterday the engagement of their daughter, Helene, to Charles Templeton Crocker. This bit of news will be received with interest by society in several cities in the East and in Europe, as well as in San Francisco, as both Crocker and his fiancée have prominent social affiliations at home and abroad. To society here the announcement comes scarcely as a surprise, as the devotion of the young millionaire to Miss Irwin has been marked through two seasons.

Miss Irwin is the only daughter of William G. Irwin of Honolulu and San Francisco, and, besides being a beautiful girl of an unusual classic type, she has all the social graces of one who has been carefully educated and who has traveled much. Her education was begun in Honolulu, continued here and finished abroad. Since her school days she has lived as much in Europe as in San Francisco or Honolulu. On her return from abroad the winter before last she remained in San Francisco long enough to participate in a whole season's gaiety here, but last winter, owing to the death of her aunt, Mrs. Edward Robinson, in Philadelphia, she was in mourning and so was greatly missed from the large affairs of the season.

Following her return from the East in December she was one of
